

New Army Posts Recommended

Secretary Garrison Concerned Over Militia and National Reserves.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11.—Secretary Garrison's first annual report to the president, as head of the war department, makes no recommendations for the general reorganization of army posts to distribute troops in mobile units. The secretary says that other things of immediate importance, "particularly an adequate supply of field artillery," will postpone his recommendations to congress, but in the meantime the troops will be garrisoned in as practical a manner for mobilization as is possible.

The Militia.
Mr. Garrison discusses the militia at some length. He says in part: "The national importance of a reserve system for the organized militia cannot be questioned. Proper organization as required by the law is absolutely necessary. The organized militia is to be counted on as a dependable military asset in time. It is regretted that the reports show but slight progress by the militia during the year. This fact is the more regrettable inasmuch as the militia is recognized as one of the most vital elements in the training of the infantry soldier."
Discussing the army reserve, the secretary says: "The adjutant general reports that approximately 11,000 men enlisted in the army between Nov. 1, 1912, and Aug. 31, 1913, and of this number 81 made application to be furnished with the reserve at the expiration of three years' service, and that on the date last named the reserve consisted of eight men."

For Army Reserve.
"I found from a personal trip to most of the army posts and from interviewing many of the officers and men as I could that the men were dissatisfied with the present enlistment contract."

ECZEMA DISFIGURED FACE BADLY

Also on Hands. Broke Out in Pimples. Itched Badly. Spread All Over Body. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Hampden Springs, Fla.—"I had had eczema on my face and hands for about three years. My face was badly disfigured. The eczema broke out in pimples and itched so very badly I would scratch it all the time. It was the most irritating disease I have ever had. It spread on my face and hands and it spread all over my body. I had great large sores all over me, caused from the eczema. It bothered me day and night so that I could not rest at all."

"I used three remedies for skin disease and they didn't give me relief at all. I was almost terrified until a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. They helped me from the time I started to use them. I used the Cuticura Soap and warm water as a wash and then put the Cuticura Ointment on the sore places. I only used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and was cured." (Signed) Mrs. E. C. Foster, Dec. 7, 1912.

"When you buy a face toilet soap think of the advantage Cuticura Soap possesses over the most expensive toilet soap ever made. In addition to being absolutely pure and refreshingly fragrant, it is delicately yet effectively medicated, giving you two soaps in one, a toilet and a skin soap at one price. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card 'Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.'"

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Cheap and Easily Made, But Ends a Cough Quickly
How to Make the Very Best Cough Remedy at Home. Fully Guaranteed.

This pint of cough syrup is easily made at home and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It relieves obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—quickly, and is splendid, too, for bronchitis, asthma, spasmodic croup and hoarseness.
Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 2 1/2 pints of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.
This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.
Pinex, as perhaps you know, is a most valuable cough remedy. It is made of Norway white pine extract, rich in ginseng and the other natural healing pine elements.
No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this manner. It is a strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.
Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy. This plan has often been imitated, but the old fashioned combination has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.
A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WHOOPING COUGH
SPASMODIC CROUP ASTHMA COUGHS
BRONCHITIS CATARRH COLDS

Vapo-Cresolene

ESTABLISHED 1879
A simple, safe and effective treatment for bronchial troubles, avoiding drugs. Vapo-Cresolene stops the paroxysms of Whooping Cough and relieves Spasmodic Croup at once. It is a boon to sufferers from Asthma. The air carrying the antiseptic vapor, inspired with every breath, makes breathing easy; soothes the sore throat and stops the cough, assuring restful nights. It is invaluable to mothers with young children.

Send us postal for descriptive booklet.
ALL DRUGGISTS
Try Vapo-Cresolene Antiseptic through Catalogue Free. They are simple, effective, and safe. Of your druggist or from us, 200 N. Stanton St., EL PASO, TEXAS.
VAPOR-CRESCOLINE CO.
62 Central St., N. Y.

EL PASO TO BE ENRICHED BY $5,500,000 IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE

(Continued from page 1.)

bids have already been opened for a part of this post enlargement. These bids total $275,000. The total estimate is given at $600,000 with a possibility of it going to $700,000 before the work is completed. All this will be done within the next year. There are even $4,000,000 for your Uncle Sam's in these particular districts during the approaching year.

Electric Railway Helps, Too.
Now comes the El Paso Electric Railway company with a total construction estimate of $450,000 for the next year. This includes more than $300,000 for the enlargement of the big power plant, the brick of which are hardly set well from the last year's work. The remainder of the estimate is for the north Mesa line extension, the Pearson plant extension, the El Paso extension, cars, equipment, paving and repairs. Considering that the Electric Railway company has just completed 12 miles of Tuleta Interurban, this estimate indicates that the Stone & Webster Engineers have considerable confidence in El Paso's immediate future.

Franklin Canal Another Item.
In addition to the big Elephant Butte dam which is under construction, the reclamation service has plans drawn and ready to carry out for remodeling the entire Franklin canal system at a cost of $175,000. The new canal in the upper valley is to be built as soon as the right of way can be obtained and will cost $275,000, making a total of $450,000 for government reclamation service. Add another $4,000 which the city intends to spend in parking the Franklin canal when completed, and another $450,000 may be added to El Paso's budget of prosperity.

Smelter Enlargement.
Ground is now being broken for the enlargement of the El Paso smelter at a total cost of $350,000. This will add 50 percent to the capacity of the smelting plant and will increase the working force there by an equal fied with the present enlistment contract.

"From the most careful consideration that I have been able to give this subject I have reached the conclusion that we will be able to get a reserve, if one is obtainable at all, by a provision of law that will permit the enlistment when it is satisfied as to the proficiency of the soldier, to honorably discharge him with no other obligation on his part, as far as the balance of his enlistment is concerned, except to return to the colors in case of actual war."

Army Not a Toy.
"While I believe there is a world-wide and growing sentiment for the settlement of the bloodshed of all disputes between nations, I recognize the fact that the time has not yet come when a nation can wisely disarm or slacken its efforts for preparedness in case of war. The army is not a luxury; it is a public necessity. A nation that is opulent, enterprising, and unarmed, as of old, still invites aggression if not disaster. Speaking for that element of the national forces which comes under the control of this department, I hope to see in time of peace a growing sentiment of interest in our army that will make the uniform of officer and enlisted man respected alike everywhere, and not an object of curiosity or invidious discrimination."

The Mexican Border Patrol.
The Mexican border patrol the secretary discusses at some length.
"At the date of the last annual report there were on duty in connection with the patrol of the Mexican border approximately 6754 officers and enlisted men. The present strength is about the same, but largely composed of different organizations.
"An extensive patrol has been continuously maintained by these troops from the Gulf of Mexico to Sanne, 30 miles west of Nogales, Ariz., a distance, following the windings of the frontier, of some 1500 miles.
"The duty of our troops at border towns during the conflicts between the two contending Mexican factions was and is a most trying nature, and the conduct of the troops under the circumstances, and the exercise of good judgment and self-restraint on the part of commanding officers, are highly creditable."
Desertions Are High.
There were 9489 vacancies in the enlisted strength of the regular army at the end of the last fiscal year when its actual strength was 79,959, and the desertions numbered 4491, which was 4.15 percent of the whole number of enlistments. Though larger than the percentage for the three preceding years, that was yet smaller than the percentage for any other year since 1901.

To Open West Point.
Mr. Garrison recommends that in justice to the "hundreds of eager boys" who cannot get appointments now, West Point should be opened to the widest competition so that any boy may take the examinations with the condition that if no candidate is successful, the particular congressional district in which there is a vacancy should qualify, the candidate who names the highest number of votes in that district where there was no vacancy, should receive the appointment.
Philippine Slavery.
The secretary refers to the attempt to stamp out slavery in the Philippines and declares that if the existing law is inadequate it should be strengthened and if adequate it should be enforced.
The turning over of the Philippine commission to native control he says "the steps which have now been taken will be carefully observed. Those best acquainted with conditions in the islands anticipate no evil consequences."

Porto Rico Must Be Held.
Secretary Garrison declares that the demand for the independence of Porto Rico represents the idea of but a few people and it is idle to consider or discuss any future for the people of Porto Rico as separated from the United States. He does, however, believe that citizenship should be granted to Porto Ricans on individual application.
The secretary complains of the heavy reductions in appropriations for the army. He says "The effect of these cuts, which were made with no regard whatever to the military establishment, necessarily places me now in the position of either not asking for what the army needs or of seeming to ask for more than my predecessors."

CHARGED WITH CUTTING BROTHERINAW'S THROAT
Francisco Recy stands charged with assault to murder by complaint filed in the court of justice of the peace at El Paso. The defendant's brother-in-law, P. Laya, is confined to his bed at his home in East El Paso with a rash eight inches in length running across his throat. Fourteen stitches had to be taken in the cut. It is believed this man will recover.
The affair, in which it is alleged Recy cut Laya, occurred Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock near the Lone Star saloon, where Laya is bartender. Recy was arrested by mounted policeman Tom York and taken to the city jail. He was transferred to the county jail when the complaint was filed.

VILLA DRIVES SPANISH OUT OF CHIHUAHUA

GIVES RICH SPANIARDS 10 DAYS TO GET OUT

All members of the Spanish colony were ordered to leave Chihuahua within 10 days by Villa when he entered Chihuahua. A number of members of the Spanish colony have arrived in El Paso from Chihuahua and others are coming by automobile in order to get away from the town before the expiration of the 10 days. The original order was issued by Villa as soon as he entered the town, and he gave the Spanish colony only five days to get their families out of the city and state of Chihuahua. This time was extended to 10 days, as it was impossible to get conveniences enough to carry out all of the Spanish colony, numbering 200 or more.
The Spanish in Chihuahua are among the most wealthy in the republic and it is expected that their property will be confiscated by the rebels, as they are believed by them to be enemies of the Maderista cause, for which Villa is fighting.
An automobileload of Spaniards arrived in El Paso at 11:30 Wednesday night from Chihuahua and others are expected to reach here Friday and Saturday. The time limit will expire one week from Thursday and the Spaniards are making frantic efforts to get out of the country before that time, the Americans who have arrived here from Chihuahua say.
These Americans also brought the report to El Paso that the federalists executed a number of political prisoners in the Chihuahua penitentiary before the town was evacuated by the federal force. A large number of rebel sympathizers and rebel soldiers were held in this prison and were ordered to be executed before the column left for Ojinaga.

FIVE WOUNDED ARE BROUGHT TO EL PASO

Will Be Operated Upon in El Paso Hospital; Permission Given for Them to Cross Border.

Five wounded rebel soldiers were brought to El Paso Wednesday afternoon from the Red Cross hospital in Juarez and placed in Hotel Dieu, where they will be operated upon for serious wounds. Facilities to perform the operations, which will be delicate ones, are lacking in the Juarez hospital.
The wounded men were brought across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Juarez military commander to bring the wounded across the line, after explaining to him that their chances for life would be much better at Hotel Dieu. Maj. R. E. L. Michie, brigadier general in the Red Cross work in Juarez, secured permission from the Ju